PROVO CITY, - DEC. 20, 1894.

THAT PESKY COMMISSION.

When on Tuesday last the Utah commission counted the votes in the third precinct and discussed and announced the defeat of Hon. John Henry Smith and Mr. Emery, it projected an excitement and raised more merry shenanigans than has been seen for many a day, or since Albert Sidney Johnson appeared at the head of an invading army in Utah in 1857. It was a clap of thunder from a clear sky, and it was loud, to be sure. What an incident bud of men this word must be to dare to take a position which unseats the distinguished John Henry and brings the ultimate result to 54 republicans and 53 democrats. It is unheard of. It is dreadful. But we only gather the full significance of the event when we recall the fact that in it, John Henry Smith, a leading republican politician, goes down in a cloud of dust, ignoble dust, never again to emerge into public political significance. We do not pity John Henry, and we think it a very good thing for Utah too, at the same time, because it really seems that after all there is a small democratic majority in the constitutional convention. If this is so, then indeed, will we have a constitution which, instead of containing a subsidy provision, will include an eternal inhibition of any such mode of wringing money from the people, the already overburdened tax-payers of the new state.

Lord, but wasn't the patriots mad when the morning papers from Salt Lake arrived with the full reports of the latest yesterday. The loudest threats were made and the declaration was made a thousand times that "the d—d thieves," meaning the commission, "should be hung," so hard did they take it. This DISPATCH assured one enthusiastic and determined fellow that if he lived until there were enough republicans in Utah to hang the commission, he could tilt at old Methusalem with some chance of outcounting that worthy by the weight of the years in his favor. "Why," said one, "if this thing is suffered to go on, they," meaning the democrats, "will have the convention, as sure as fate." Well, if it is found by the official count that we have more honest elected delegates, we will have it doubt. If we have not, we do not want it. The commissioner will go on and deal with this matter in the future as they have in the past, honestly, but fearlessly, and without the slightest reference to the vapors of the disgruntled and disgusted republicans. We venture to make a prediction. It is this: When the final result is announced by the Utah commission, that result will stand, no matter who or how many are angry or dissatisfied—because it will be an honest decision and the votes will be in the boxes to verify the decision, and democratic or republican, the result will be final and beyond recall.

For amateur ball-players the republicans talk too much and shoot off their mouths too readily. They cannot help an honest count which seats the democratic majority which has been apparent all along. If they try to interfere with it in any way save by due and proper course of law, they will call about their ears a bit of a storm, the vigor and extent of which they have but little conception. Let them gather behind the republican minority on the commission and closely watch every step made. If they find anything wrong on the part of the democratic majority, let them go into the courts and make good the charge and the democratic supreme court will throw out the spurious democratic members, if any there be, in less than a minute.

JOHN HENRY SMITH kicks vigorously at being left out in the cold, on the official count. If anybody is to be so left without rather it be John Henry than almost anyone else because he was the most intemperate of all the intemperate party with whom he was operating. We are not shedding any bitter tears over John Henry's defeat, rather we rejoice at it. Of course he feels bad, but that is the lot of the politician. He will get it in the neck at times, no matter how he looks after his fences. John Henry is no exception to the rule. He will now perhaps fall back on the church and perhaps find succor for his sorrow.

This Tribune now has a bit of warfare with the Rev. T. C. Cliff as to whether it or the christian churches are to be credited with steeplechase. We still adhere to our original opinion that to Joseph L. Rawlins and to neither of the other influences is to be ascribed the present happy situation in the territory. If the christian church entered politics far enough to influence matters in the way Mr. Cliff claims, they went far out of the line of duty, and as for the influence of the Tribune in the matter, there was not enough in it to quarrel about now.

INDRED will Secretary Carlisle's bill be closely examined before it becomes a law. It contains all the grave objections which are found in greenbackism as well as the flat plan. No sir, Mr. Carlisle's bill will never become a law, at least it ought not. The country is tired of this eternal tinkering with the currency. Give us something solid.

It does seem after all, that the constitutional convention is really democratic. The last sensation in this way reaches up for the scalp-lock of one of the loftiest republicans in the state, the Hon. John Henry Smith. The lightning-bolt poked out a lofty and a shining mark for once, for certain. Now next year it will pay the republicans to be honest at the ballot box, if nowhere else.

The manipulation of the ballots in Salt Lake do not appear to have been made originally by the democrats. The God and Morality party did that bit of work, it would seem. Perhaps it is this circumstance which makes John Henry Smith feel so disconsolate.

The opposition of the republicans to a recount is explained by the condition of the boxes already opened in the third precinct. We should oppose it too, if we were a republican.

The Utah commission is not composed of a set of men who can be driven by terror, or ridicule either, from the straight and narrow path of plain duty.

The verdict in John Henry Smith's case will not produce tears in this community, at least among the democrats.

THE Uintah and Uncompahgre commissioners are in Utah and will commence their labors at once.

It Comes High to Be Rich. Any one acquainted with the living expenses of persons who esteem themselves fairly comfortable finds a significant moral in the commands laid upon the rich by their physicians. Not only is the wealthy patient bidden to abstain from costly table waters and even imported champagne for ordinary drinks, but every detail of his life seems regulated with a view to spending the most money for his needs. The whole world is ransacked for food that his weak stomach can digest, for clothing suitably suitable for his body. The infants of the rich are required to drink milk at 60 cents a quart and to wear tiny garments that exceed the cost of plain adult clothing. It may very well be that a child under 2 years old, fed and clothed according to a doctor's prescriptions, may cost more per annum than the living expense of a wholesomely clothed, fed and housed adult.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Holmes on Domestic Economy. The laughable and the pathetic are sometimes strangely mingled in little exhibitions of domestic economy—a plate of apples, for instance, with the defective parts cut out for the children; a small basket of homemade gingerbread, with one or two pieces of pound cake carefully disposed on the surface so as to appear to the best advantage.—"Autocrat of the Breakfast Table."

Buckley's Arnica Salve. THE BEST SALVE in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. FOR SALE BY Smoot Drug Co.

Jackson Day Social. The Ladies Democratic club will give a social on the evening of January 8th, 1895, in honor of members of the Timpanogas club and others who have assisted them in their organization.

At the regular meeting, December 13th, the following committees were appointed:

ON ARRANGEMENTS: Mrs. Wm. White, Mrs. John A. Brown, Miss Mary Brown, Mrs. Emma Warner and Mrs. V. L. Halliday.

ON INVITATION AND REFRESHMENTS: Mrs. W. D. Alexander, Mrs. M. J. Pratt, Miss Zina Beck, Mrs. James Dunn, Mrs. Elizabeth Kirkwood, Mrs. Belle Nelson, Mrs. O. B. Young and Miss May Bell Thurman.

ON DECORATION: Miss Gertrude Thurman, Ethel Pratt, Nora Beck, Mrs. W. R. Pike and Ray Wilkins.

ON RECEPTION: Mrs. D. A. Swan, Etta Farrer, Mrs. S. A. King, Mrs. E. A. Wedgwood, Miss Rose Young, Mrs. J. W. Booth, Mrs. Towle, Mrs. Lizzie Cluff and Mrs. Selby Jones.

ON PROGRAM: Mrs. Cornelia Clayton, Mrs. W. D. Roberts Jr., Mrs. W. R. Pike and Mrs. E. A. Wilson.

These committees are requested to meet at the county courthouse, Thursday, December 20, at 7 o'clock p. m.

MAY BROWN, Secretary.

It May Do As Much for You. Mr. Fred Miller, of Irving, Ill., writes that he had a severe kidney trouble for many years, with severe pains in his back and also that his bladder was affected. He tried many so-called kidney cures but without any good result. About a year ago he began the use of Electric Bitters and found relief at once. Electric Bitters is especially adapted to cure all kidney and liver troubles and often gives almost instant relief. One trial will prove our statement. Price only 50c. at Smoot Drug Co.

Harper's Magazine

In 1895. The Simpkins, a new novel by THOMAS HARPER, will be begun in the December Number, 1894, and continued to November, 1895. Whoever may be one's favorite among English novelists, it will be conceded by all critics that THOMAS HARPER stands foremost as a master artist in fiction, and The Simpkins may be expected to arouse enthusiasm in proportion to the degree to which it has marked the literary world.

Recollections of Joan of Arc, by the Sieur Louis de La Roche, her Pure and Secretary, under which guise the most popular of living American Magazine writers will present the story of the Maid and her glorious career. Number will appear a profusely illustrated paper in character and the Carolina, the first of a series of Southern papers.

Northern Africa is attracting more attention than at any other time since it was in the center of the world's interest. The next volume of HARPER'S MAGAZINE will contain four illustrated articles on this region, and a vivid account of the present life there. JULIAN RALPH will prepare for the MAGAZINE a series of articles, depicting typical phases of Chinese Life and Manners. Besides the long stories, there will be in the January Number the first chapter of A Three-Fort Novellette, by RICHARD HARRISON DAVIS, the longest work yet attempted by this writer. Complete short stories by popular writers will continue to be featured in the MAGAZINE.

Send for Illustrated Prospectus. The Volumes of the Magazine begin with the Numbers for June and December of each year. When time is mentioned, subscriptions will begin with the Number current at the time of receipt of order. For binding, by mail, postpaid, $1.00. Title-page and Index sent on application. Remittances should be made by Post-office Money Order or Draft, to avoid chance of loss. Newspapers are not to copy this advertisement.

Harper's Weekly

In 1895. HARPER'S WEEKLY is a pictorial history of the times. It presents every important event promptly, accurately, and exhaustively in illustrated and descriptive text of the highest order.

The manner in which, during 1894, it has traced the Chinese Railway Strike and the China-Japan War, and the amount of light it has thrown on the latest news, and the interest it has created, are examples of its most boundless resources. The distinguished American writer and correspondent, has been sent to the seat of war, and there joined by G. D. RAUPE, the well-known American artist, now for many years resident in Japan, who has been engaged in cooperation with Mr. RAUPE in securing the most complete and accurate illustrations.

On reading and filing the petition of Martin Penn, administratrix of the estate of Thomas Penn, deceased, settling forth that she has filed her final account and to her satisfaction upon said estate in that court, that all balance except a balance of court fees, have been fully paid, and that a portion of said estate remains to be divided among the heirs and devisees of said Thomas Penn, deceased, according to law.

It is further ordered that the clerk cause notice to be posted in three public places in the County of Utah, to wit: in the County Courtroom, in the County Courthouse, on the 24th day of Dec., 1894, at 10 o'clock a. m. and there to show cause why an order allowing said final account and of distribution of the said estate should not be granted.

It is ordered that all persons interested in the estate of the said Thomas Penn, deceased, be and appear before the Probate court of the County of Utah, at the courtroom of said court, in the County Courthouse, on the 24th day of Dec., 1894, at 10 o'clock a. m. and there to show cause why an order allowing said final account and of distribution of the said estate should not be granted.

Witness my hand and the seal of said Probate court, at my office in Provo city, Utah, this 4th day of Dec., A. D. 1894.
